25 years after the publication of Derrida's politics of friendship Politiques de l'amitié 1994 this edited collection gathers 23 critical chapters that revisit this underappreciated text engaging closely with Derrida's text the contributors analyse extend and critique the work they reconsider the place this book occupies in Derrida's political philosophy and its potential for contemporary politics when the promises and perils of political friendship have reappeared friendships offer us room for personal growth emotional support and plenty of fun explore the meaning of friendship in a personal case study of two women who ve been friends for years and have worked at having an enriching relationship that helps them through the many challenges of life authors wendy satin rapaport and sanda neshin bernstein are both clinical psychologists in friendship matters they use the example of their own friendship to explore the power of this connection friendship takes work but it should be celebrated for the ways it can improve our lives and help us grow close friends are lifelines the people who help us through the worst days and who cheer us on during the best we can learn to nurture our friendships most effectively by keeping a few principles in mind for example though similarities are naturally comforting it is also important to respect and celebrate differences because these are rich opportunities to learn anchored by a dialogue between these two close friends this wisdom filled guide shows us how to have more meaningful relationships with good friends by our side anything is possible during the second world war various nazi agencies competed for the plunder of occupied europe s archival heritage this volume brings together reports by individuals who took part in the negotiations for the return of those twice plundered archives among those the archives of the iav patricia kennedy grimsted reveals her story of the seizure and dramatic fate of those records in nazi and soviet hands and the post 1991 political battle within russia over their restitution in the second half of the volume the stories of individual countries are told with the focus on the returned archives of france belgium the netherlands and luxembourg together with the austrian rothschild archives appendices present the legal instruments for the return of these of these displaced twice captured archives and identify the present locations of all of those that have recently come home from russia some of them long believed lost military and security records documents from early masonic lodges for the memory of centuries past new memorials to those who perished in the war and the holocaust all are covered in this book without friendship life would be completely meaningless and it would show the world that you are incapable of building relationships and loving others who are not your family members the good thing about friendship is that it can be established even at a young age and it has the power to defy age barriers the old can be friends with the young and men can be friends with women and vice versa when in the company of close friends we tend to open ourselves a lot more and communicate even our darkest secrets fears and anything we feel like sharing friends are like creatures we do not share a drop of blood with yet they hold the closest spot in our hearts richard obede is the director of public relations and a board member at love revolution canada he is a former board member at thrive community oshawa he earned his bachelor s degree in counselling from canada christian college he is a certified counsellor certified by the evangelical order of pastoral counsellors of america and the canadian college of christian counsellors he holds a diploma in sales management and marketing from tracom college he is currently pursuing his masters degree in counselling at canada christian college
